made of lasting benefit to the city. Mayor Henry's relations with the three city councils over which he has presided have been uniformly pleasant and harmonious. The council of 1903-5, which retired Dec. 1st, adopted resolutions praising him in high terms.

Major Henry is Colonel of the Third Regiment of State Guards and served with distinction in the Spanish-American war. He has held many honorary positions in the leading secret orders of the State and has always filled the offices to which he was elected with great credit. He was not a candidate for re-election as Mayor.

The New Mayor.

On Monday next Mr. Chas. M. Meacham will enter upon his duties as Mayor for the ensuing term of four years. Mr. Meacham is a native of Christian county and came to Hopkinsville 30 years ago as a schoolboy and has resided here ever since. He has for 27 years been editor and publisher of the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN. He was for eight years a Commissioner of the Western Asylum, two years of the time President of the Board; and served three years as Election Commissioner for the county. He was Secretary of the Democratic County Committee for eight years, Chairman of the committees for five, and member of the State Executive Committee for boy and has resided here ever since.

YANKEE BLUEJACKETS

CHANCE IN NAVY FOR AN AMBITIOUS JACKIE.

When the Landlubber Enlists—His Progress Thereafter—Able Seaman
—Pay and Advance—Pretty Well Cared For Generally.

One wonders that many adventurous lads do not crowd to the navy, that it is a problem to get the number wanted. Apart from the chance for a penniless boy to see the wide world, to-day Jackie is being given wide and better opportunities to rise in the service, may even mount to the dizzy heights of the highest commissioned ranks.

To be sure, it is the exceptional Jackie that rises very high, but even if he remains an enlisted man the full 30 years before retirement and pension privileges, he may quit the service with as big a sum in his account as any man by his hard-fisted efforts.
And think of all the yarns he can spin to admiring, wondering acquaintances of heathenish lands—told, great seas crossed, of many men of many climes.

There is prejudice against the service because of the popular belief that “he receives every man pay,

but gets nothing in return.”

NEW YORK STATE LEADS.

Empire State's Great Growth in Population, the most of Which Is in the Cities.

The census which the state of

New York has just completed is most gratifying to its citizens.

The total population is returned in over 1900, when the inhabitants were found to number 7,268,894.

No other state in the union has so large a population, Pennsylvania coming second five years ago, with 6,302,115. The third state in 1900 was Illinois, with 4,821,550 inhabitants, and the fourth Ohio, with 4,157,545. The long lead which New York has over her nearest competitor is our biggest fair to hold for some time to come, for the natural increase of a community of 8,000,000 souls is itself a most powerful factor, while the Empire State is so situated as to hold for itself no inconsiderable portion of the great immigration from lands over the sea. Its destiny is still imperial,

and its power in the commerce and trade of the country is bound to grow with the increase of its population. To day probably one-tenth of the people of the United States dwell within the borders of

New York. Greater New York has

4,014,304 inhabitants, far more than are to be found in some sovereign states of influence and importance, say Massachusetts or

Missouri.

But everything, everything is not as it appears. The increase of population from 1910 to 1900 was 2,468,894. The increase from 1900 to 1905 was 1,200,000.

From 1905 to 1910 it was 1,000,000.

So the increase of population from 1900 to 1910 was 3,600,894.

That is, the average annual in-

INDEPENDENTS WILL CONNECT.

Meeting of Telephone Companies to Be Held at Murray Jan. 10.

GROWING IN STRENGTH

Past Year One of Activity and Many Lines Have Been Strung and New Phones Installed.

A meeting of the representatives of the independent telephone companies doing business in West Kentucky and West Tennessee will be held at Murray January 10.

The independent companies have been very active the past year, and lines have been built and phones placed in almost every farm house.

Exchanged at Benton, Murray, Hardin and other good towns have been built, and an exchange is now being put in at Mayfield.

The object of the Murray meeting will be to have all the companies connect with each other.

The independent companies have become formidable opponents of the Cumberland system on account of being connected with so many farm houses, and now they propose to combine and give free service to their subscribers to all points on their lines.—Paducah News-Democrat.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh.

CONFlicting CLAIMS MADE

Miller Says He Will Beat Lawrence But Gives No Figures.

PAYNTER LOSES VOTE.

Drewry Drops Out as a Candidate For Speaker. Caucus Next.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 29.—Tom Drewry, of Louisville, yesterday withdrew for speaker and threw his seven votes to Miller.

R. W. Miller stated last night that his prospects for being speaker were as bright as they could be. He declined to give out any figures on the race, but said that he had enough votes in the lower house to warrant his election by a safe majority. He said:

"From advices received today I feel certain of election. The boasting of the other side does not have any effect on me whatever. I do not think that it is necessary for me to make any extravagant claims. I am going to win, and that is all there is in it."

In the Paynter headquarters, where Adj. Gen. Percy Haley presides, which is also headquarters for all the Paynter candidates, claims of success were given out on all sides. Both Adj. Gen. Haley and Henry B. Hines said there was nothing to it, but the election of Henry R. Lawrence as speaker of the House and the election of Judge Thomas H. Paynter as Senator.

The Hon. Henry R. Lawrence said last night that he felt confident of being the next Speaker of the House. He said: "I do not want to put my majority higher than I really think it will be, but I am confident I will get forty votes in the caucus, which is two more than enough to nominate me. I know that will get forty votes, because men in whom I have the utmost confidence have told me they would vote for me. I do not mind stating that I think my cause will continue to grow stronger till the vote is finally taken."

Although nothing definite was determined in regard to the matter, yet the probable candidates for caucus chairmen in both houses were discussed at length yesterday and last night. It was given out at the headquarters of Henry R. Lawrence that W. J. Gooch, of Simpson county, would likely be put forward as his candidate for the chairman of the caucus of the house. The name of Virgil McKnight, of Mason county, is strongly mentioned as the candidate for R. W. Miller for chairman of the house caucus.

The Paynter forces are still undecided as to whom they will name as their candidate for chairman of the Senate caucus, but the name of M. L. Harbeson, of Covington, was prominently mentioned last night in connection with the place. The name of Senator Laben Phelps, of Louisville, has been mentioned as the anti-Paynter candidate for chairman of the Senate caucus.

The support of Judge Paynter and Representative Lawrence do not appear to be in the least cast down over the fact that the Louisville delegation will not be for their candidates. One of them said:

"Why, the Louisville delegation has generally been on the wrong side of the fence in the speakership race," he declared. "The members from this city and county were opposed to Gerald Finn and Eli Brown, and yet both were elected speaker. Their position has caused us no uneasiness.

Judge Paynter's chief lieutenants on the floor of the house will be Gooch, of Simpson; George Wilson of Union; Zeb Stewart, of Calloway; Arnett, of Covington; Jesse Alverson of Lincoln; Matt Redwine, of Hardin; and Elliot, Henry Miller, of Hardin; Ed Coran, of Bullitt; Herman Southall, of Christian, and Rogers Blair, of Harrison.

The one change in the senatorial situation is that Senator Etton of Clark, who changed to Paynter, has returned to Blackburn.

The speaker's caucus will be held Monday night and the Senatorial caucus is expected to be held Tuesday night. There are few contestants for places in the organization of the Senate and House that are attracting general interest.

BABY GIRL'S AWFUL HUMOR

Would Scab Over, Break Open, and Be Raw—Intense Suffering for Two Years—Doctors and Medicine Failed to Help Her.

CURED BY CUTICURA AT COST OF 75 CENTS

Writing under date of Aug. 19, 1902, Mrs. L. C. Walker, of 5 Tremont St., Woodford, Ky., says: "My sister had a terrible humor on her shoulder blade when she was eighteen years old, causing intense suffering for two years. We had several doctors, and tried everything, but in spite of all we did it kept spreading. One day it took up residence in my shoulder blade and a watery matter came from it and the scabs would all fall off. It would be raw for a time, then scab over again. Some time ago I applied Cuticura and we immediately packed a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a cake of Cuticura Soap. She was much better after the first bath with warm water and soap, and the ointment and the soap. Before it was half gone we saw a marked change for the better, and she was entirely well when a scar began to form on one side of the shoulder. The ointment and the soap. Her skin is now entirely clear, and she has not had a sign of trouble since."

UNUSUAL SUCCESS.

Bad Weather Didn't Kill Business by a Long Shot.

Friday morning at 9 o'clock the diagram was placed at the Anderson & Fowler Drug Co. to give all who held unreserved seats at the Tabernacle an opportunity of securing seats for the remainder of the course of attractions. By 9:20 nearly all choice seats had been taken. The crowd lined up in a row and joked one another until each one passed through and secured his seat—though he wished he had come a little sooner.

In the face of about the worst weather conditions for years preceding Christmas day, our merchants sold last Saturday nearly enough goods to supplement the short sales on Thursday and Friday caused by the horrible weather which kept buyers at home. Monday was a real Christmas day for dealers, many persons from the country delaying making purchases to that time. Messrs. Clark & Johnson, who had put on sale an unusually large stock of fine candies and toys, and not desiring to keep them on hand, knocked prices right and left, and in consequence about closed out their specialties. George Young, opposite the opera house, who always makes big preparations for the holiday trade, fairly loutid himself and now smokes his pipe in peace and satisfaction, and puts his own back with pleasure as he contemplates his business success. W. A. P'Pool & Son, who now conduct the oldest hardware house in the city, has a big share of "Christmas pie." They had been expecting it and had bought largely of Christmas goods. F. A. Yost & Co., the buggy and harness men, had a large sale of everything in their line. This firm has built up a wonderfully large trade by fair dealing, selling goods that are just what they represent them to be.

These houses are all conducted on sound business principles—no misrepresentation, no shoddy stuff—once a customer secured a customer retained. The proprietors are all gentlemen and entirely worthy the confidence that is reposed in them, and the Kentuckian takes pleasure in endorsing them in every way.

in a Man's Pockets.
A fairly well-equipped gentleman true to his calling and his friends carries a kit of tools. There is a jackknife, a matchbox, a cigar cutter, a nail file, a corkscrew, a finger nail tool and possibly a cigar holder, and some good five-centers to give away. And yet none wonder what he finds to put in his pockets. To facilitate further the business of just hanging around, he must have a little money, a handkerchief, bunch of keys, fountain pen, some lead pencils and sharpener, eyeglasses, notebook, watch, old letters, papers of more or less supposed value and a card case. Not one pocket could be spared unless it is the one on his nightshirt, and that looks so sweet.—Clay Center (Kan.) Times.

Japanese, like these Islands, volcanic, but a people of wonderful self-control. Matter of Novel Interest to Travellers.

Japan is often referred to as "Land of Gentle Manners," but the traveler soon finds that man is made of mud during the days of the "peace riots." An English traveler, Lady Lawson, sums up the people up as striving for self-control, but inherently very excitable; volcanic dwellers of a volcanic region. It seems well to quote her words directly. Writing in Black and White, she says:

"The effect of environment is very marked here, where the people are volcanic by nature, like their native country, and bubble up as freely as their own hot springs when they once let themselves go. The English, however, are a people of all soul, to be relied upon every time. We also find it the best remedy for coughs and colds, giving certain results and leaving no bad after effects. We are never without it in the house." For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

HY BUCK'S HOT BLAST

Heater Will Actually Pay For Itself.

Because Buck's Hot Blast will produce as much heat and as satisfactory a fire in every way, by using the cheapest dollar and a quarter coal, slack or screenings, as other heaters in which you must use high grade soft coal or hard coal. You can see at a glance how soon this saving in fuel will make a Buck's Hot Blast actually pay for itself. It is not the first cost of a stove that counts so much, it is what you have to pay to feed it, in coal.

This is the "Buck's Stove."

L. J. IRWIN, G. P. A., Louisville, Ky.
L. W. ROGERS, T. A., Henderson, Kentucky.

A tempting offer has been made to John, better known as "Mugger," McGraw, the well known vaudeville manager and the New York Giants, to appear on the vaudeville stage as a monologuer artist during the winter season. The contract offered the famous comedian a salary of $1,000 a week, and those who know him predict that he would be a success. He has a talent for anecdote that shows itself when the Little Napoleon is in company. No man, not even barring Tim Hurst, has a bigger fund of interesting stories of the diamond and the rough, and the comedians' ends has McGraw. When he begins story telling his success is instantaneous. McGraw, if he accepts, will not be the first baseball star to read the boards. Fifteen years ago the late Mike Kelly appeared in vaudeville in a talk written for him by Billy Jerome. Mr. Arthur Laram, the only man to have been a baseball player and a comedian, also had a talk written for him. He never took a small part in a musical comedy. Then came Adrian C. Anson, in the late C. W. Hoyt's "Runaway Colt," in which "Pop" was the star. Tim Hurst played a brief engagement with Anson. His part was to umpire a baseball game. While reasoning for this scene one of the members of the audience asked what the stand as spectators advised Hurst to "speak louder." "Why?" answered Mr. Anson, "are you hard of hearing?" Christy Mathewson was also offered a vaudeville engagement this fall, but declined the chance, just as Happy Jack Chebros did last year, when he was the premier pitcher of the country. McGraw agreed to go to Romeo, Mich., this fall on a visit to Frank Bowerman. They spend the time hunting and fishing and partaking of muskrat dinners.

Now that all the golfing tournaments for women for the season of 1906 have been concluded, the golfers, a set apart among the fair sex, can be seen when glancing over the year's play. In the east comparatively few opportunities were afforded for getting a line up of the amateur golfers, as open tournaments were very scarce. In the west the competitive phase of the game is given a deal more attention, but even there it is largely a matter of individual skill. One leading golfer, Mrs. Charles L. Dering, champion of the Western Women's Golf association, barely qualified in the national event, and lost in the first match play round. But at that she must be regarded as one of the best in the Chicago district, now that Mrs. B. T. Horne has dropped out and Mrs. F. C. Moore has retired. On to old time form. Had Miss Margaret Curtis won in the national championship, everyone would have agreed that the most natural golfer, and no many respects the best this country has ever produced, had at last come into her own. As all golfers know, Miss Curtis did not win. Miss Pauline Mackay, who had come to the rescue of the year's champion, the Miss Georgia Anna Bishop, the 1904 winner, is a doubtful ruiser. Boston women got plenty of tournament practice, but there also it is largely a matter of opinion when it comes to picking the best player. Miss Curtis easily won the tournaments in which she participated, and it is a fact that she is the steadiest of the lot, with Miss Mary Moore, who is a favorite, and Miss Louise Weis close up. Mrs. Charles T. Stout won the Metropolitan championship at Baltusrol in the spring, and she was a pronounced favorite to win the national. She went off her driving-in fact, got well-nigh hopeless with her wooden clubs. After that the former national champion showed her true mettle, and it is a fact that in her game there are none in the country capable of playing better golf. Miss Charlotte Dod, the subject of the illustration, is the champion woman golfer of Great Britain, who came to America to try to wrest the laurels from American women golfers. In this, however, she was unsuccessful.

The date for the Fitzsimmons-O'Brien contest has been set for Tuesday evening, December 20. The fight will occur at Mechanics' pavilion, San Francisco.

Japan's Fisheries. The property of Japan depends very largely upon the sea. A thousand varieties of fish—including the shark—are eaten by the inhabitants, the annual yield of the fisheries being 3,000,000 tons or three times the consumption of the United States. The value of this product is $30,000,000. The census also supply an edible siren known as laver and other sea weeds from which food gelatin is extracted, together with large quantities of salt. From Japan, moreover, comes a large quantity of the world's soap and perfume.
